

Dear Exhibitors,

We are privileged to welcome you to take part in Medtec China 2019 in Shanghai. We would like to express special thanks to all exhibitors supporting and participating in 15th Edition of Medtec China.

As one important stop of the Medtech world' s series, we have promoted the development of medical manufacturing industry all over the world for over 40 years. Medtec China, organized by Informa Markets, is dedicated to serving as a high quality community for medical device R&D and production technology field, and to providing innumerable ideas and possibilities for the development of China' s local medical device manufacturers, as well as support for multi-national medical device manufacturers to set up production and R&D bases in China.

We are now having more than 12,500 pre-registered professional visitors and buyers to attend our show this year, including 80+ enterprise delegations. They are mainly world-leading medical device manufacturing companies (domestic and overseas) and more China' s OEM players are joining us. It is estimated that over 10, 000 visitors are coming to celebrate this annual grand gathering in the most vigorous market——China.

We are proud to announce that Medtec China increased 30% in space and exhibitor numbers compared with 2018. There are 450 exhibitors from 25 countries and regions coming for this grand gathering in medical device manufacturing industry. It is the first that we have had New York State (NYS) pavilion bringing 8 companies to make the debut in China. There'll be several new exhibitors in the German Pavilion this year. And the Singapore Pavilion will continue to support Medtec China.

This year 150+ first timers will debut the products and technical services in 21 categories, including R&D and Design Services, Raw-Materials, Tubing and Extrusion, Components, Electronic Components, Manufacturing Equipment, Surface Treatment, Automation, Packaging and Sterilization, Testing, Metrology, and Inspection and Calibration Equipment and Supplies. We specially set up the Regulation Zone aiming at providing integral services and better total solutions to all the clients and professional visitors in the international medical device manufacturing industry.

Medtec China 2019 will have the most free content-rich conferences ever in the history, covering new medical materials, plastic molding technology, medical device packaging and sterilization, medical device design, core components and technology of medical electronic products, medical adhesive and welding technology, regulations class, medical device market analysis report and other popular contents, to fully meet the needs of learning. Our regulation summit, quality and technology forums will continue to focus on the front line of the industry, making the modest contribution to the long-term development of China's medical device industry. With 60+ speakers, 80+ excellent speeches and activities, the onsite conferences will concentrate on industrial hot topics, have an insight into the trends of industrial development, display the cutting-edge technology, and spark inspiration of participants, delivering the most efficient experience for the audience. Other onsite activities, including the regulation class, exhibitor technology seminars, new technology speeches, and Medical Design Excellence Awards (MDEA) display, also await your visit.

Medtec China 2020 will be held at "Shanghai World Expo Exhibition and Convention Center (SWEECC)" during 14th-16th/Sep/2020. This is the first time we will use two halls (Hall 2 and Hall 4) for Medtec China. It shows the great potential of China's medical manufacturing industry with CAGR 25%+. Come and Join us by rebooking booth onsite for Medtec China 2020.

To all exhibitors – we sincerely wish you a complete success during Medtec China 2020!
